

Join us in support of
Nicole and LLS!!

I am about to embark on an exciting journey... one that I have been wanting to undertake for a very long time. With Team in Training, an organization that helps raise awareness and funds for the Leukemia & Lymphoma Society (LLS), I am thrilled to say that my teammates (almost 90 of them) and I will be representing the Westside of LA in the LAVAMAN TRIATHALON in Kona, Hawaii on March 29. We will swim 1 mile, cycle 24, and run 6 in honor of those who are fighting life-threatening blood cancers.

I am also participating in this event in honor of my father, Gilbert Gordillo. Although his passing was not due to cancer, his memory is what has driven me to follow my dreams and will be my inspiration throughout
